

Anett Mueller-Engler

Chief Financial Officer – VAKT®-GmbH Strategic Stability & Financial Architecture

Executive Profile

Stability does not arise from numbers.
It arises from mindset, structure and consistency.

Since 2008, Anett Mueller-Engler has been responsible for the strategic and operational financial architecture of VAKT®-GmbH. With more than 35 years of international industrial experience – shaped by her work within an American technology corporation – she combines global financial discipline with the execution strength of a medium-sized enterprise.

She stands for economic clarity in complex structures – calm, resilient and forward-looking.

Financial Leadership as a Strategic Discipline

For her, finance is not an instrument of control.
It is an instrument of steering.

Her remit extends beyond budgeting, controlling and liquidity management to the holistic alignment of commercial processes with growth, resilience and long-term sustainability.

She ensures that:

- strategic decisions are financially sustainable
- growth does not result in instability
- governance is economically secured
- entrepreneurial freedom rests on a solid structural foundation

International Experience – Structure Under Pressure

Her long-standing role within a US technology corporation shaped her professional approach:

- international reporting standards
- audit and compliance reliability
- confidence in negotiations with banks and auditors
- economic decision-making under regulatory pressure

She understands corporate mechanics – and knows how to translate them intelligently into the SME environment.

Hard Skills

- 35 years of financial management and controlling
- Annual financial statements under HGB and IFRS
- Audit preparation and compliance
- KPI-based steering models
- SAP and ERP expertise
- Digitalisation and automation of financial processes
- Supply chain understanding through logistics background

Leadership Philosophy

For her, leadership means:

Assuming responsibility before risks become visible.

Her style is:

- structured
- calm
- decisive
- value-oriented
- clear in communication

She combines analytical precision with human stability.

Guiding Principle

Growth requires structure.

Structure requires discipline.

Discipline creates freedom.

*Role within the Overall Framework

VAKT®-GmbH | Aponsi | Engler

While CIO, CISO and CADO are responsible for strategic, technological and structural architecture, she ensures that every decision remains economically viable.

She is the stability foundation within the system.

Not visibly in the foreground –
but indispensable at the core.
